IS OFFERING WOMEN

True Hope

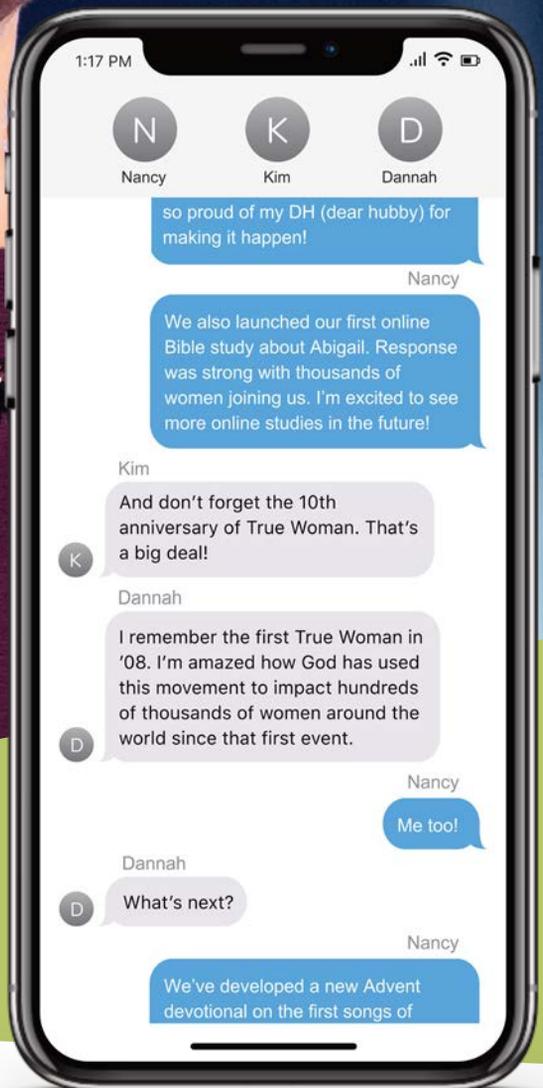

IN CHRIST

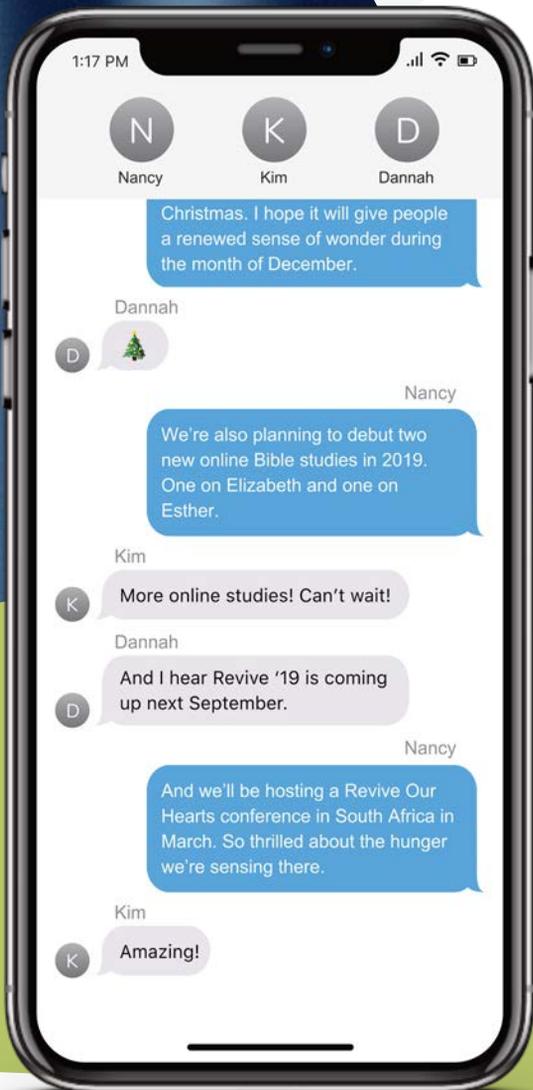

2018 MINISTRY REPORT

Nancy DeMoss Wolgemuth
Founder of Revive Our Hearts

Margaret Found True Hope while battling cancer.

“I wanted to express my thanks for allowing the Lord to work through you into the lives of women. I am presently going through A 30-Day Walk with God in the Psalms while battling terminal cancer. My last reports state that I now have metastasized breast cancer in the bone, liver, lungs, and brain. Studying the Psalms has been such a blessing and encouragement to me.

“I share some of the verses that have touched my heart with family (husband, seventeen and fifteen-year-old boys) and with friends. My prayer through this trial is that the Lord will receive the glory. As I try to understand how to give and show glory to the Lord in this, I am encouraged by a friend who mentioned ‘though our outer self is wasting away, our inner self is being renewed day by day’ (2 Cor. 4:16).

“Your study in the Psalms is helping me renew that inner woman daily.”

– Margaret

Whitney Found True Hope beyond sexual sin.

“As a non-Christian, I was a slave to many sexual sins. I am now thirty, but I became a Christian at nineteen. During the first two years of my Christian life, I felt very alone because the Christian women around me didn’t quite understand the struggles I was facing. I was then given the book Lies Women Believe and was shown there is hope in God’s Word and that my value does not come from sex but from my Savior who died because He loved me.

am now a women’s ministry leader in a college ministry, working with young women and teaching them that, whatever the struggle, they are never alone. God is always with them, giving them the strength to overcome sin that is no longer their master.

“Thank you for serving the Lord and setting the example for us younger women to follow so we too can set the pace for those who follow us.”

– Whitney

Malinda Found True Hope in the midst of a marriage crisis.

“Over four years ago, I emailed you for prayer. My husband had walked away from our marriage and had an affair, with a child on the way as a result. Your program and Nancy’s books were such an encouragement to my heart during the bleakest time in my life. They also encouraged me to continue to pray that God would heal and restore our marriage.

“This summer we will celebrate seventeen years of marriage and three years of recommitment to those vows. To God be the glory! He has given us so much healing and grace. I can’t even imagine how we would be here without Him.

“Our journey back in our marriage has not been without struggles, and because of child payments to the daughter my husband has because of the affair, I had to take on more steady work as a nurse. God opened the door in a clinic forty minutes away, and I am so thankful for your programs every morning as I drive out there.

When Katie was fighting pain and discouragement as a teenager,

the Lord used Revive Our Hearts to offer True Hope.

At the age of ten, Katie began to experience serious health problems, including debilitating headaches, joint pain, and fatigue. Her parents took her to multiple doctors, but they received little help and no answers. As time went by, Katie's symptoms worsened.

When Katie became a teenager, her family turned to a clinic for people who had exhausted all conventional medical options. But while Katie was hopeful the treatment would help, she found the environment to be difficult.

Steel walls. No fragrances or electronics. Nothing from the outside could be brought in. For eight hours each day, Katie sat on a metal stool. Every ten minutes, she walked to the front of the room for an injection, then went back to her stool and waited another ten minutes for the next injection. Hour after hour, day after day. No books, no music, little human interaction. Just waiting . . . and loneliness—lots of loneliness.

Katie describes this time as “miserable.” And though she was a Christian and believed in the goodness of God, she had a hard time applying it to her own situation. “I knew God was good,” she said. “I saw that in others. But I didn’t think God was good to me.”

For so long, Katie had put her hope in doctors, thinking they would make her well. But every treatment failed. In desperation, Katie cried out to God. “I remember begging Him to show me if He was good and if He was trustworthy.”

Her answer first appeared on a little white slip of paper.

A Unique Prescription

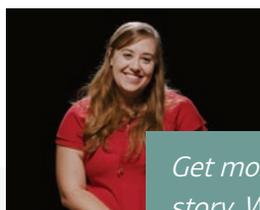

After a few weeks of the clinic’s monotonous routine, one doctor gave Katie a special prescription: He wrote a note allowing her to take an iPod into the testing room. That iPod put Katie on the path to finding her true hope in Jesus Christ.

Katie had heard about Revive Our Hearts, so she downloaded all the programs she could find. As she waited for injections, she listened to Nancy teach. Through these messages, God began to show Katie His goodness.

“As I listened, it allowed me to realize this was the place God had me,” she said. “And if He had put me here, then it was with great purpose. At a point when I had no other hope, the messages gave me Christ . . . and He was everything.”

Ultimately, the clinic’s treatment didn’t work. And after a decade of searching, Katie was finally diagnosed with Lyme disease. Though things are still difficult health-wise, she wants to give Christ’s light to others who sit in darkness, just as Revive Our Hearts did for her. Now in her late twenties, Katie is a teacher to kids in the hospital and desires to use what she learned through her own experience to help them.

“For years, all I was chasing was a cure or even a diagnosis. I thought if I could just be well, then my life would be fulfilled. But through Revive Our Hearts, I realized that if I have Christ, I’m okay.”

When Piroscka was struggling with guilt from her past,

*the Lord used Revive Our Hearts to provide True Hope.*

As a young woman in the Dominican Republic, Piroscka longed for the perfect life. Though she had been involved in religious activities, she didn't know Jesus as her Savior. Piroscka put her hope in her boyfriend and their future together.

When she was twenty-one, Piroscka got pregnant. Ashamed and embarrassed, the only person she thought she could turn to was her boyfriend. But when she told him about the pregnancy, he offered no support.

Piroscka felt alone . . . and desperate. She wanted the baby, but she wanted her boyfriend more, so Piroscka agreed to an abortion.

Then she got pregnant again. This time, she didn't hesitate. She knew what she had to do in order to get the life she wanted.

“Nothing was going to take away the plan I had—that I was going to continue this perfect relationship and eventually have a perfect wedding.”

That wedding happened just one year later. Eventually, she and her husband had four children. And though she strived for an ideal family, it soon became evident she wasn't the one in control.

Piroscka's oldest son was born with a brain tumor that caused many health issues. Through the struggle of caring for his needs, her family began to attend church, where they consistently heard the Word of God.

One Sunday morning, Piroscka was hit with the reality of the gospel. She finally understood she was a sinner and Christ had paid for her sins at the cross. At the age of thirty-seven, Piroscka surrendered to her life to Christ. Not long after, her husband became a Christian, too.

Free from Sin, Free from Shame

As Piroscka became more involved at church, she met Laura González de Chávez, director of Aviva Nuestro Corazones, the Spanish ministry of Revive Our Hearts. Piroscka volunteered to translate the English programs into Spanish, which had a dramatic impact on her new faith in Christ.

“Every message I heard from Nancy was a message just for me,” she said. “God used Nancy to align me correctly in the way He wanted me to be as a woman of Christ.”

In 2015, Piroscka attended the Mujer Verdadera Conference. When Dannah Gresh, one of the speakers, talked about revealing secrets that keep you in bondage, Piroscka's heart beat faster. She had never told anyone about her abortions. And while she knew she was forgiven, she couldn't shake the shame. “The enemy made me feel dirty and not worthy,” she remembers.

That day, Piroscka confessed her secret to a trusted friend. That step, plus a Bible study she later completed at a local crisis pregnancy center, allowed her to be set free from the bondage of guilt and grief.

Today, Piroscka has found her purpose in life: to counsel other post-abortive women and share with them the Truth and freedom available through Jesus.

Once upon a time, Piroscka found hope in having a perfect life. Now Revive Our Hearts has helped her to find true hope—through the Word of God and Jesus Christ who has set her free.

It is liberating to be free from this culture's ideas of femininity and womanhood. It is liberating to understand how I'm supposed to display God's image to the glory of His name. It is liberating to be a true woman of God. I thank you for using God's Word to teach me that, Nancy."

“As a pastor’s wife, I have tried different times to encourage our ladies to live out the Titus 2 woman model. I used Bible studies on the topic, but I never seemed able to really get the point across. I could never explain it all well and why we should live this kind of life. Partly, I had older women I respected questioning the principle, and I didn’t know how to answer them. But mainly I didn’t have the right mentoring resource to help me. I believe Adorned is the answer. I haven’t devoured a book like this in a long time.”
